RATED ONE OF THE TOP CONFERENCES NOT TO BE MISSED
I'm loving the conference we are having a great time. Its kind of interesting because I hang out a lot around Silicon Valley and you hear a lot about culture and DevOps very often, and you come over.

This is a great conference. Australia is lucky to have something like this.

I had the pleasure in doing DevOps Talks 2019 in Australia. The combination of the right audience and great content was something you just couldn't miss. Melbourne's DevOps community, a blended engineers and managers crowd, and the impressive speakers' line-up made it one of the best conferences I attended this year. Great job, team. Thanks for the opportunity.

Come, network and talk to people who might be already doing what you are just planning to do. It might help you avoid some mistakes. Even if you pick up one idea, avoid one mistake or learn one new thing, it's worth investing your time and coming to the DevOps Talks Conference!

We will do deep dives into Terraform, Kubernetes, iterative metrics, dashboards, and monitoring for Cloud-Scale App, open source governance and compliance controls for AWS deployments. Our very international line-up of speakers will present the most interesting subjects of IT, High Tech and Emerging Tech.

Sponsoring is a great opportunity for your company to build brand awareness within the DevOps space and support the DevOps community.
